BEST OF BOTH

Bringing together old and new styles to honour the period of a property whilst retaining a modern identity requires a careful balance, as shown in this elegant vignette from a country project by interior design studio Todhunter Earle. The tapestry and panelling acknowledge the rural location and history of the home, whilst the trestle table, with its glossy bright-blue top, strikes a contemporary note. A playful mix of colours stands out against the slate-blue walls, creating a scene that is both timeless and of the moment.
